This screenshot shows the Blackboard LMS interface for the 'How to use MLA' page. The browser address bar shows the URL: https://bb.cv.edu/webapps/portal/frameset.jsp?tab_group_id=2_1&url=%2Fwebapps%2Fblackboard%2Fexecute%2Flauncher%3Ftype%3DCourse%26id%3D_1358_1%26url%3D. The CVCC logo is visible in the top left, and the user 'Debra Plotts' is logged in in the top right. The page title is 'How to use MLA'. A navigation menu on the left includes items like Home Page, Student Conduct, Syllabus, Course Information, Assignments, Groups, Examinations, Discussions, Course Documents, Web Links, Tools, Help, Announcements, Syllabi, Eng 093, 101, 102, Handouts, How to use MLA, Make-Up Work, External Web Links, Contacts, and On Campus Lab. The main content area features a header 'How to use MLA' with sub-menus for Build Content, Assessments, Tools, and Publisher Content. Below this, there are four document icons with titles: 'MLA Rules and Guidelines', 'Using MLA from Purdue University's On Line Writing Lab', 'Formatting Quotations Correctly', and 'In-text citations'. Each document has a small icon and a title, and some are marked as 'Enabled: Statistics Tracking'. The 'MLA Rules and Guidelines' section includes the text: 'CVCC's English classes require the use of MLA (Modern Language Association) style for the documentation of sources. Click on the link below to read a helpful document on MLA documentation comes from Diana Hacker's, A Writer's Reference, 5th ed. MLA style'. The 'Using MLA from Purdue University's On Line Writing Lab' section includes an image of the MLA logo. The 'Formatting Quotations Correctly' section includes the text: 'How to Correctly Use Quotations' and a citation: 'Taken from: Lisa Hammond Rashley's homepage This page copyright 2000-2007 by Lisa Hammond Rashley | last update 25 January 2007'. The 'In-text citations' section includes the text: 'In-text citations'.

This screenshot shows the Blackboard LMS interface for the 'Writing Essays and Paragraphs' page.
